

June Callwood Award

Recognizing outstanding contribution in support of people with developmental disabilities.

Nominations due by March 31, 2010

June Callwood inspired hope in all those whose lives she touched. She extended her hand in compassion to many and worked towards creating a society inclusive of all people.

In honour of her legacy, Surrey Place Centre is pleased to announce that the nomination process for this year's June Callwood Award is now open. Successful nominee(s) will be announced at the 4th Annual Inspiring Hope Awards on Thursday, June 10, 2010.

It could be someone you know: a colleague, a person living with a developmental disability, a family member or an important group or organization that has made a difference for people with developmental disabilities.

Nominees will have:

- ▶ made a significant contribution at a national, provincial and/or regional level, to enhance the lives of people with developmental disabilities;
- ▶ made a significant contribution in supporting children, youth and/or adults with developmental disabilities in achieving their full potential;
- ▶ demonstrated leadership in advancing the quality of life for people with developmental disabilities through advocacy; education; service; research; volunteerism and/or philanthropy.

Nominations must be received by 5:00 PM Wednesday March 31, 2010 in order to be considered.

All entries will be kept private and confidential. For more information on the June Callwood Award criteria, please contact Sylvie Labrosse at 416-925-2169 ext. 2391 or via e-mail at sylvie.labrosse@surreyplace.on.ca.
